Neff's Payment Is Not Illegal, George Declares

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today Nebraska lawyer-lobbyist John M. Neff engaged in "manifestly improper" activities in behalf of the natural gas bill but that he sees nothing illegal in them.

George heads a special investigating committee which yesterday wound up public hearings into Neff's offer of a $2,500 campaign donation rejected by Sen. Francis Case (R-SD). George said the evidence indicates Neff engaged in a "clear pattern" of activities in five states to drum up support for the measure, and he told newsmen:

"His actions were manifestly improper but no crime was committed as far as I can see."

A federal grand jury has been conducting its own inquiry to see if there is evidence of any law violation.

George said Sen. Case was to be "commended for the action he took" in telling the Senate during the gas bill debate that he was rejecting the $2,500 offered him by Neff. Case said he felt it represented an "abnormal interest" in his vote on the bill. Case voted against the measure when the Senate passed it.

President Eisenhower subsequently vetoed the bill, which would have exempted natural gas producers from direct federal regulation. Eisenhower said he did so because "arrogant" tactics were used in its behalf.

George said it is his opinion that Neff was "trying to make good with the people who put up the money" in an effort "either to bolster existing sentiment or create sentiment for the gas bill."

Neff was shown in testimony to have talked with persons, either in person or by telephone, in Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, Montana and Wyoming.

Junior Play One of Best, Cast Declares

Put March 16 on your calendar as the date of the Hope High School junior play, "Tattletale," to be given in the school auditorium.

Some members of the cast, upon being interviewed, gave their school activities and very optimistic opinions about the success of the play.

When questioned, Betty Jo Cox declared, "I definitely believe it will be one of the most entertaining plays ever presented at Hope High. Its humor will delight the fancies of both young and old."

Not only does Betty Jo have the lead in the play, she is also gifted with many other talents. She plays the piano, draws, and is well known as the "queen of pantomimes."

She is a member of the F.T.A., F.N.A., American History Club, Student Council and is on the Hi-Lights staff.

Jack Moran commented, "If you like suspense and lots of laughs, 'Tattletale' is the play for you."

Jack has the leading male role in the play and is active in school organizations. He is vice president of the Student Council, member of Latin Club I, president of History III Club, lieutenant governor of Division 14 of the Key Club. Jack is a two-year letterman in football and a track member. His favorite pastime is water sports.

"I think 'Tattletale' will provide an evening of most enjoyable entertainment for everyone," was Tom Thompson's assertion as to the success of the play.

Tom, whose hobbies are painting, photography, and piano playing, is a member of the Hi-Lights staff, F.T.A., History III Club, Melody Makers, and Rainbow Girls.

"I think our play, 'Tattletale,' will be one of the best that has ever been put on in Hope High. It is very funny but also teaches a lesson. I believe everyone should see this play, not only for entertainment, but also to see the value of civic spirit in a town," responded Charles Tittle.

Charles is a male lead in the play and participates in many school activities. He is a member of the Student Council, lettered in football and is a member of the track team. He also manages to be an honor roll student. His outside interests include a part-time job at Moore Bros. and active membership in the Civil Air Patrol.

Farm Income Billion Lower Than Year Ago

BY OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Total farm income fell nearly one billion dollars last year, the Agriculture Department said today.

While this was happening, a department report said, the income of the nonfarm segment of the nation's economy was rising above 1954 levels.

The department said the income of the nation's farm population, from all sources, last year totaled a little more than 19 billion dollars. The individual average was $860. This compared with just under 20 billions received in 1954 and an individual average of $913.

The non-farm population was said to have received total income of 275 billions last year for an individual average of $1,922—more than double the farm average.

The previous year the nonfarm total was 258 billions for an individual average of $1,837.

Included in the farm income estimate were net returns of farm operators, farm wages, allowances for home consumption of farm products and rental value of farm dwellings, changes in inventory values of farm products held by farmers, and earnings from nonfarming sources such as investments, off-farm employment and farm earnings — a major political issue in this presidential election year.

The drop in prices was offset to some extent by a 3 per cent increase in the volume of farm production last year.

Agriculture Department economists predicted last fall that farm income would decline further this year. But Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said it would increase if Congress acted promptly to enact a soil bank plan recommended by President Eisenhower.

Under the soil bank the government would make payments totaling up to $1,100,000,000 a year to farmers for voluntarily taking land out of production of surplus crops.

The Senate is nearing the voting stage on a bill that would authorize the soil bank plan—but would also junk the administration's flexible price support system and restore high, rigid farm price props opposed by Eisenhower and Benson.

Arab, Egyptian Leaders Discuss Developments

LONDON (AP) — Arab leaders of Saudi Arabia, Syria and Egypt gathered in Cairo today for a summit conference on the Middle East's ferment. Diplomats watch warily for developments.

Saudi Arabia's King Saud flew to the Egyptian capital for talks with Egypt's Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser and Syria's President Shukri al Kuwari. The talks are expected to deal with both their running feud with Israel and the possibility of swinging Jordan into their mutual military aid partnership.

Jordan's 20,000-man Arab Legion, trained and financed by the British, is rated the best fighting force in the Arab world. Now that King Hussein has ousted British Lt. Gen. John Baget Glubb as the legion's superior.

Britain reacted sharply to the Glubb case and a smarting setback in Cyprus, the Mediterranean island colony that is the headquarters for her Middle East ground and air forces.

Prime Minister Eden's government recalled the 15 top British officers who had served in the Arab Legion under Glubb. And it announced it would use military forces as necessary to end the killings and bombings on Cyprus, where a compromise offer of restricted self-government to leaders of a Union-with-Greece movement broke down.

Delegation Trying to Save Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) Gov. Orval Faubus will head an Arkansas delegation to meet at Washington Friday with Secretary of Navy Thomas to discuss the future of the Naval Ammunition Depot near Camden, Ark.

The plant's operation contract expires next year. Present plans call for putting the plant on a standby basis, reducing the payroll from 1,600 workers to 450.

Rep. Harris (D-Ark.) said the delegation will include a group from Camden, Sens. Fulbright (D-Ark.) and McClellan (D-Ark.) and himself.

The possibility of "full utilization of the ordnance plant at the expiration of the present contract will be discussed, Harris said.

Are You Always Greeted by an Awkward Silence After Telling a Joke? — Well, Here Is Why

Oklahoma Output of Oil Shows Increase

TULSA, Okla., (AP) — Oklahoma accounted for all but 100 barrels of new daily average drop of 10,300 barrels to 7,179,860 barrels in crude oil and condensate production during the week ended March 3, the Oil and Gas Journal's survey showed today.

The Sooner state's 16,200-barrel fall to 629,500 barrels was from an exceptionally high production average for the previous week.

Louisiana and North Dakota were the best gainers, the former increasing 8,000 barrels to 814,650 and the latter rising 3,900 to 39,800.

The Journal's estimate of 1956 production climbed to 445,463,200 barrels compared to 421,407,040 a year ago.

Kansas had the second largest loss, 6,300 barrels to 341,200 barrels. Other sizable decreases were reported for Illinois, down 2,300 barrels to 231,300; California, off 3,000 to 971,500; New Mexico, 1,400 to 238,875; and Texas, 1,300 to 3,031,100.

Colorado was down 60 barrels to 191,300, Michigan fell 590 to 29,600 Utah was off 400 to 6,600, Mississippi dropped 375 to 11,100 and Arkansas slumped 150 to 74,250.

The title, the professor says, is funnier than any of the 30 jokes he tested in the preparation of his Kanny report.

Dr. Kenney says he's come to the conclusion—within the field explored—that the more predictable the punch line of a joke the funnier it is to the listener.

In other words, the listener gets a bigger charge when he can see the kick coming.

As Kanny put it: "The degree of humor appreciation increases with the degree of predictability."

"This theory tends to dispute the idea, held since the days of Aristotle, that the surprise end is the best."

How did Kanny arrive at his conclusions? He first gathered the 30 jokes from college humor publications, from the works of Dr. Sigmund Freud and from other sources.

"None of the jokes are what you would really call naughty," he said. Next he chose 114 University of British Columbia students and divided them into two groups.

The first group went over the 30 jokes and rated them in three ways—those with predictable endings, those of moderate expectation and those with surprise endings.

The second group of students evaluated the same jokes on a humor rating scale—very funny, funny, slightly funny, neutral, slightly disagreeable, unpleasant and highly unpleasant.

As an example of the jokes rated highest, Dr. Kenney submits this one: "Coed: I'd like to see the captain of this ship. Sailor: He's forward, miss. Customer: What would I do in Seattle at 7:30 p. m. That, says Kenney, is not a joke, son."

Dr. Kenney passes along this gem: "Horse dealer: Mount this horse at 4 a. m. and you'll be in Seattle by 7:30 a. m. Customer: What would I do in Seattle at 7:30 p. m. That, says Kenney, is not a joke, son."

THE STORY: Mike Morrison, an American caught by the German invasion of Greece in 1941, now realizes that the "innocent paper" he was asked to deliver was for British Intelligence. Now he is in an Anzac uniform, trying desperately to get out of the country, and being sought by two men either of whom, or both, might kill him to get the paper. The retreat has reached the southern part of Greece.

Chapter VIII

Morrison saw the Aussie Captain and the Palestinian Sergeant walking in his direction. He ducked behind a tree, but he heard their voices as they passed.

"The Germans have entered Athens."

The full weight of the news crashed down on Michael Morrison. The Germans would regroup at Athens, and a day, maybe two, would find them rampaging down the Peloponnese. The enemy in the sky would not be the only menace now.

A motor convoy of 30 trucks came to a halt on the dirt road a quarter of a mile from the wooded area. All organization seemed to disintegrate. The soldiers poured from the woods and boarded the trucks. They needed no prodding from the NCO's to hurry.

No choice but to join them. Take the ever-narrowing gamble that Mosley and the little man would not find him. Take the slim, slim chance the British might yet escape.

He hustled through the woods to a point where the road ran close to the trucks. As the last slowed enough for him to race its path and waved. The vehicle slowed enough for him to race around back. A half dozen reaching hands pulled him in.

The Dunkirk on Wheels came down from the mountains and stopped in the town of Kalamai on the Gulf of Messinia. This was the end of the line. There was no place farther to run.

The truck rolled into the square. Three Stukas spotted it immediately.

Mike dashed across the square. Suddenly his feet flew out from under him. He lay there for several seconds, mesmerized, looking into the animal's eyes. They seemed to be mocking him, saying, "It isn't my war, either." Mike backed away from the horse and ran for a row of nearby houses.

As a rack of bombs hit the square he half-threw himself down a flight of steps into a cellar.

Cowering against a wall were an old man and three women. One woman clutched a screaming infant. The old man crossed himself and prayed softly. Another woman was becoming hysterical. Mike

Long Shots Dominate Monday Races

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Longshots, dominant in the first four races at Oaklawn Park yesterday, looked likely to pick up in today's program where they left off.

Carded for the first race — the first half of the daily double — was a 3-furlong sprint for maiden colts and geldings.

The daily double yesterday, built before the longshots gave up their hold on the winner's circle, returned $856.60, the largest of the meeting. It was formed by Lori-El, a first starter, in the first race and Mr. Monica, a 12-year-old veteran, in the second.

Lori-El paid a whopping $102.60 straight. That was the longest win price of the meeting until the fourth race, when Firey Divorcee galloped home to reward her backers with $122.60.

Mr. Monica paid $20.20 to win. Olin Sledge's Cross Ring, heavily favored, held no trouble capturing the featured 5 1/2-furlong Hope Purse. Ridden by Howard Craig, Cross Ring took an early lead and held it all the way, finishing 2 1/2 lengths in front of Ken Houssels' First Bond. H. H. Mundy's Col-lect was third.

Cross Ring, timed in 1:04.4 over a fast track, returned $4.20, $3.20 and $2.60.

Mr. Favor, the world record for 6 1/2 furlongs, was assigned top weight of 121 pounds in the featured $2,600 Hot Springs Showman's Association Purse, a 6-furlong race today.

Riverside Has Sold Dog Track

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. — Riverside Greyhound Club, one of many parties in the baffling controversy over West Memphis dog racing, has sold the property where it once raced dogs here, it was learned yesterday.

Riverside, which conducted its last races in 1941, still has a questionable franchise to operate.

However, so does Southland Racing Corp., which recently built a million dollar track and obtained, through the strength of a court order, a permit.

Arkansas law forbids more than one dog track within any given 15-mile radius.

Records in the Crittenden County clerk's office at Marion revealed that Riverside's property was sold to the McAllister-Davis Co. The sellers listed on the deed, dated Oct. 31, 1955, are Riverside Kennel Club and Chickasaw Broadcasting Co.

The Riverside franchise, revoked last year by the Racing Commission because of disuse, later was reinstated.

In December the Commission rejected Southland's application for an operating permit. It gave as a reason only that it felt dog racing was not in the best interests of the state.

Southland contended that racing today.

Others in the field, include Sledge's Alab Ace and Tolerant, each carrying 116 pounds; Emil Denmark Jr.'s Big Power and H. H. Rendleman's King Bobe, also carrying 116 pounds; Mundy's Sir Chris, E. K. Carey's Bobtag, Walker and Winter's Sweet Beldine, and Jess Barker's War Tuck.

son was not sufficient for a rejection and, on appeal, Crittenden Chancellor W. Leon Smith agreed. He ordered the commission to license Southland before midnight March 2. The commission did it.

The commission twice asked Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry, its attorney to seek a stay from the State Supreme Court of Chancellor Smith's order.

Gentry said at Little Rock yesterday that he didn't seek a stay because he didn't think it was necessary. He added that he thought the Racing Commission acted hastily in granting the franchise.

Apparently without the knowledge of the commission, Gentry filed notice of appeal at Marion last Friday, about seven hours before the commission granted the franchise.

Arnold quoted Vance as saying he had loaned about $1,500 to school employees, but all of the money had been repaid. Arnold said there was no evidence to indicate Vance had gained personally from his handling of the funds. Vance resigned after Arnold announced his findings. He said he quit because of his wife's illness, brought on partly by the investigation and partly by the controversy over Hoxies integration.

DOROTHY DIX

Overcritical Sister Needs Help Herself

Dear Miss Dix: I have a terrible time getting dates because of my older sister, who considers it her duty to cross-examine every boy who comes to the house. Our parents were divorced and when Mother died, my sister had the job of bringing me up. Sis has had two romances and both men proved faithless. Now she is so bitter and suspicious that she spoils every date I get. Even if a boy invites me out casually, he must answer a barrage of embarrassing and personal questions when he calls for me.

I know my sister's intentions are good and she doesn't want to make a mistake, but I'm sure all boys aren't in the cheating category. I'm in high school and sure would like some social life.

DATELESS

Answer: Actually, your sister needs advice far more than you do. Her outlook on life is very warped and it may take psychological or psychiatric counsel to change it. One can be wary without becoming eternally suspicious.

Suspicion with its side-kick, jealousy, is one of the most demoralizing of all emotions. It robs a personality of all gentleness, sympathy and tolerance. Its victim is shut up in a prison.

I can readily understand why your sister trusts no one, but no matter how many feeble people one meets, there still are good, trustworthy folk about. Young as you are, you can set about changing her attitude. Be patient with her. When a boy calls on you give your sister an advance bulletin telling her as much as you know about the lad. She can learn other things by courteous questions, not retreating, and the rest must be left to the future.

If she isn't a church member persuade her to become one. Not that church membership is an infallible proof of honesty, but one can usually count on people with a common interest in God. Being able to rely on someone is absolutely essential for your sister. Help her find such a friend, man or woman, and your own problem will be automatically solved.

Childish Behavior

Dear Miss Dix: We are two very close friends who go steady with two swell fellows. We used to have wonderful times together, but a few months ago the boys had a misunderstanding and since then haven't spoken to each other. We would like to go out on double dates and have fun, but with the situ-

New Twist — From Riches to Riches

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (R)—Dolores Gray has a switch on the usual Hollywood rags-to-riches story. In her case it's riches to more riches.

Refreshing, isn't it. Here's a gal who was born with plenty, yet developed a potent talent and became a star of the Broadway and London stage. Now she's adding the movies to her conquests.

She was asked about her family's wealth.

"Let's say that my mother has always been able to live comfortably," she said, modestly declining as it is, that's impossible.

FRAN AND LIL

Answer: Unless the argument was serious, and I gather it wasn't, the boys are acting more like kindergarten than high-school students. At that, even kindergartners rarely go into "no speaking" phases for more than a few days.

Probably this is a case of hurt pride, with neither one willing or big enough to admit defeat. Try maneuvering them into a situation where they'll have to speak, even if it's only to say "hello." Or just refuse to continue being a part of such childish nonsense. Whatever you do, do it fast, as this sort of thing grows worse with time.

Dear Miss Dix: I have been married five weeks. I love my husband very much but am thinking of leaving because he doesn't love me. He told me so. He said he realized before we were married that his feelings had changed but didn't want to hurt me. He doesn't want me to leave but I think it would be best. I'm 19 and he's 25.

Answer: Your husband's desire to keep you with him slightly belies his claim he doesn't love you. Saving a marriage that has so much in its favor is worth any effort. You both seem co-operative, so why not try a marriage counselor before separating? I'm quite sure you'll find the answer to your problem there. There's a member agency of the Family Service Association near you. Do apply to them for assistance.

The extent of their comfort is demonstrated by the fact that they have a house here in Benedict Canyon and another in New York. At a recent count, they had six poodles and five cars—one to match whatever color scheme Dolores might be wearing.

Far from being a drawback, Dolores feels that her financial independence accelerated her career.

"Because I didn't need jobs to get by on," she reasons, "I could afford to pass up the roles that wouldn't help me. That's why I was a star in London at 21."

Dolores, a brown-eyed blonde with a big, big voice, was born in Chicago but came here when she was 3. She has been appearing professionally since 15, singing on radio, in night clubs and Broadway shows.

Her big break came when she was chosen to star in the London company of "Annie Get Your Gun." She played the role created by Ethel Merman, whom she resembles in volume and lusty manner. Dolores drew 27 curtain calls opening night and played the Western sharp-shooter for three years.

She returned to Broadway to co-star with Bert Lahr in "Two on the Aisle," establishing herself as the logical successor to the great Merman. She later did "Carnival in Flanders" and managed to win the Antoinette Perry Award though the show lasted only six performances in New York.

MGM tabbed her for a contract and she scored in "It's Always Fair Weather" and "Kismet." Now she's in another musical, "The Opposite Sex," in which she has no songs. Figure that one out.

Jeers, Hisses at Political Discussion

BY ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cheers, jeers and hisses resounded through the Willard Hotel ballroom last night as spokesmen for the major political parties argued race relations before a predominantly Negro audience.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler and Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) slugged it out in a personal—though entirely verbal—level at a Civil Rights Assembly sponsored by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

Shouts from among the 1,000 delegates edged on the contestants. Only Butler's refusal to continue debate with a man he described as a "proxy" for Republican Chairman Leonard W. Hall put an end to the racket.

Butler and Scott, a former GOP chairman representing Hall, gave prepared addresses claiming major credit for their parties in civil rights advances in the past few decades.

Part of the dispute revolved directly around the White House with Scott contending:

"Thanks to the decency and the inherent goodness in the character of President Eisenhower, his administration has registered the greatest advance for the rights of racial minorities since the emancipation proclamation itself."

A road with a base or manor any logs and a surface of aluminum ore runs 30 miles from Paramaribo in Surinam, South America, to its airport 30 miles away.

ONE-BOWL RECIPES FOR OLD-FASHIONED HOMEMADE CAKE

ONE-BOWL CAKE TIPS

Always use double-acting baking powder and soft, emulsifier-type shortening. Start heating oven to specified temperature before you begin to mix.

BANANA-NUT CAKE

SIFT together into large mixing bowl, 2½ cups sifted cake flour, 1½ cups Imperial Granulated Sugar. 1¼ teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt. Add ¾ cup soft shortening, 1¼ cups (about 3) sieved bananas and ½ cup buttermilk. Stir to dampen flour.

BEAT with an electric mixer at medium speed 2 minutes. Add ½ cup more buttermilk, ½ cup unbeaten eggs (2 large), 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat 2 minutes longer. Fold in ¾ cup chopped nuts.

POUR into 2 paper-lined 9" x 1½" round pans. Bake at 350°F. 30 to 35 minutes.

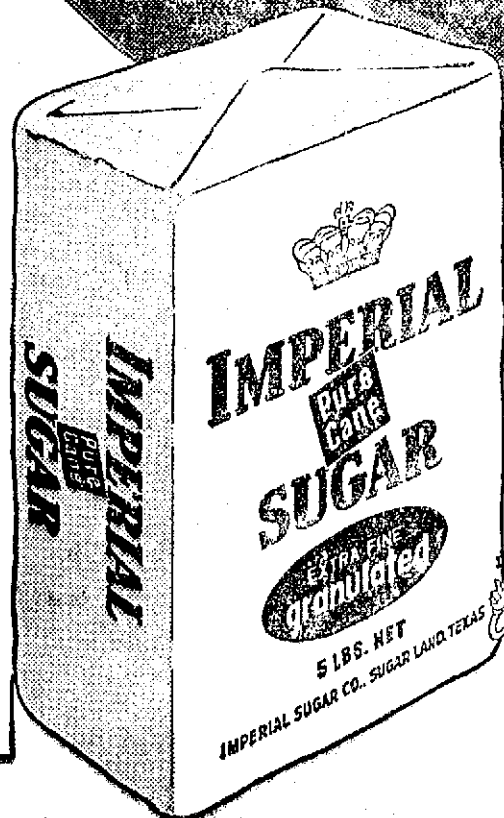

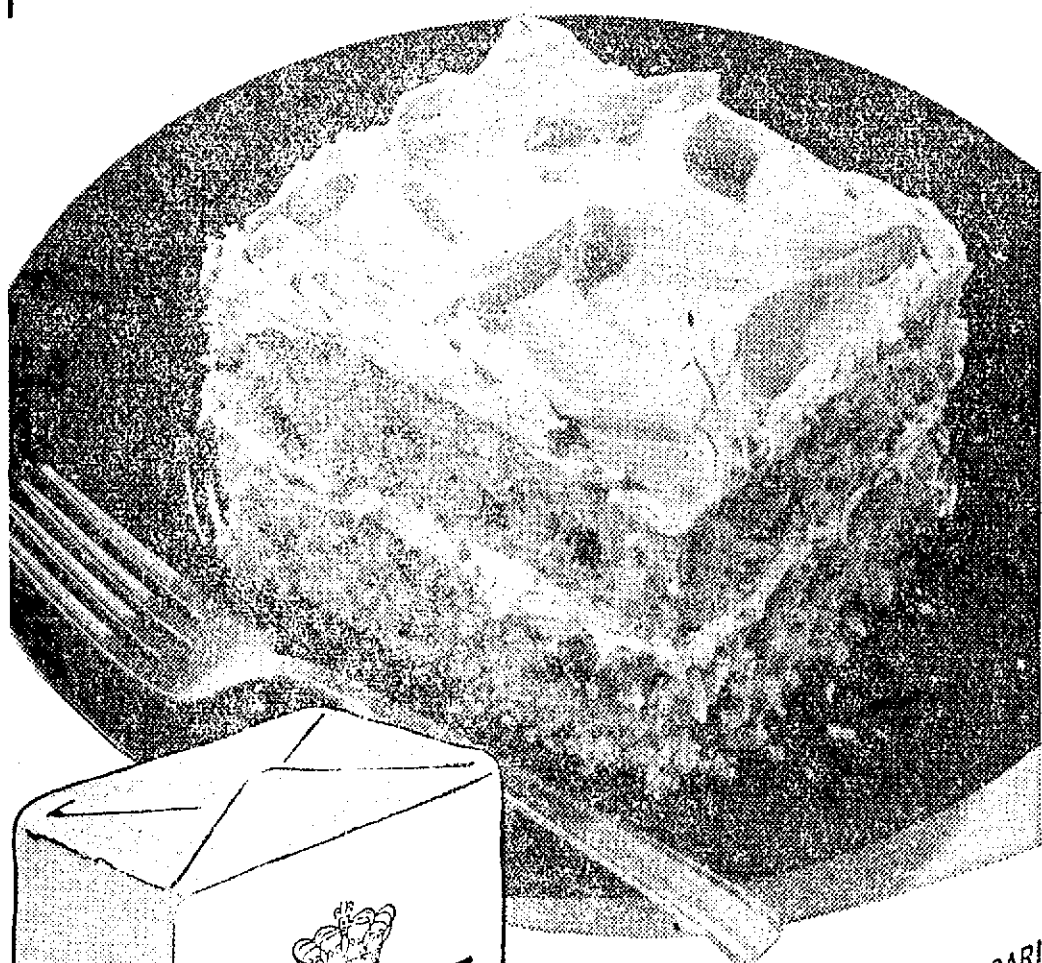

FROST WITH BROWN SUGAR 7-MINUTE FROSTING: Combine in top of double boiler, 1½ cups Imperial Brown Sugar, firmly packed, ½ cup cold water, 2 egg whites, unbeaten. Place over boiling water (water should not touch upper part of double boiler). Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer for 7 minutes. Remove from water. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Continue beating until mixture stands up in stiff peaks.

*MIXING BY HAND: With spoon, beat briskly for same time periods as above. Use full sweeping strokes around the bowl, cutting through the center every 5 or 10 strokes. Allow 150 strokes per minute.

GOOD BAKING NOTES

1. Assemble all ingredients and utensils before you start to mix. 2. Prepare baking pans as directed. Be sure pans are the specified size. 3. Accurate measurement of ingredients is important. Sift flour before measuring it. 4. Stagger pans in oven. Do not allow to touch each other or oven walls. 5. When baking time is up, lightly touch center of cake. If cake springs back and no imprint remains, it's done. Double check by inserting cake tester or toothpick. It must be clean when you remove it.

SMU in 8th Place in U. S. Cage Poll

By NICK ELLENA

Of The Associated Press
The San Francisco Dons easily maintained the top ranking in the Associated Press poll this week.

Should they retain their No. 1 ranking in the final poll of the season next week, they will have been voted the top team in the nation for 19 straight weeks by the country's sports writers and broadcasters. They've been on top 14 times this season, plus five times last year.

Along with that a victory over St. Mary's tonight would give them an undefeated regular season with 25 straight victories and add to their all-time major college record of 51 straight.

While San Francisco cornered
the voting with 1,162 out of a possible 1,311 points, North Carolina State surprised by vaulting from fifth to second place. Illinois dropped from the runner-up spot
all the way to seventh.

Other changes saw Vanderbilt and North Carolina drop out of the top 10 while Kentucky (No. 9)
was readmitted and UCLA (No.
10) joined the select group for the first time this season. Dayton
(No. 3), Alabama, the Southeastern Conference champion (No. 4), and Louisville (No. 6) retained the same spots they held last week.

The Big Ten leader Iowa jumped from 10th to fifth and Southern Methodist, Southwest Conference champion, from ninth to eighth to round out the top 10.

The leaders, with first-place
votes in parentheses:

1. San Francisco (73)	1,162
2. N. C. State (5)	776
3. Dayton (1)	743
4. Alabama (24)	720
5. Iowa (7)	717
6. Louisville (6)	553
7. Illinois	427
8. SMU (2)	319
9. Kentucky (2)	228
10. UCLA	191
The Second 10:
11. Vanderbilt	168
12. Holy Cross (3)	133
13. Temple	127
14. West Virginia (1)	125
15. North Carolina	106
16. Oklahoma City (3)	103
17. Houston	71
18. Wake Forest	51
19. Duke	49
20. Utah (1)	43

Former Cardinal Catcher Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bruce Ogrodowski, 43, a onetime battery mate of Dizzy and Daffy Dean with the St. Louis Cardinals, was found dead yesterday at his home.
Ogrodowski had been ill four years following a mild paralysis.

He played with St. Louis in 1936 and 1937 and with Sacramento and San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League. Later he managed the Ana. Mex. in the Sunset League and Aberdeen, S. D., in the Northwestern League.

At Aberdeen he became afflicted with a form of polio.

Underdogs of AIC to Play for NAIA Bid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Southern State College and Arkansas Tech, the two underdogs in the 4-team playoff, will meet here at 7:30 tonight to decide which will represent Arkansas in the NAIA basketball tournament at Kansas City.

Southern crushed Arkansas State
92-69 and Tech trimmed Arkansas
A&M 74-67 in semi-windup games
last night.

Southern's victory over the highly esteemed Indians of Arkansas State answered the annual question of who's better—State, which is an independent or a top AIC team—in an impressive, if no final, manner.

The Muleriders, the No. 2 team in the AIC, had a tussle on their hands for three-quarters of the game. But midway in the second half they took advantage of physical and mental misuses by Arkansas State to move into a safe lead.

Buddy Jacobs led the Southern attack with 31 points, followed by Calvin Neal with 22. High for Arkansas State was Ken Knight with 19. Gerald Chapple scored 16.

Tech, which finished third in AIC regular season play, nosed out AIC champion A&M in the last minutes of the game. The loss of Jum Trimm through personal fouls hurt A&M's stretch drive.

Ronnie Kennett scored 25 points for Tech and Sid Ragland pitched in 19 for A&M.

Arkansas State, which compiled a 14-10 season record while traveling in fast company with an independent schedule, was the only non-AIC team in the playoff. The Indians each year play the No. 4 team in the AIC for the fourth playoff berth. Last week they whipped Hendrix to enter the playoff.

independent countries in the world

Five Games in Class A State Playoff Today

HARRISON, (AP) Ten teams, the cream of their districts, moved today into the first games of the 5-day state Class A high school basketball tournament here.

Five games today and five tomorrow will reduce the 18-team field to eight for the Thursday quarterfinals. The semifinals will be Friday night and the championship game will be Saturday night.

The Fort Smith Grizzlies, who won the tournament last year at Little Rock, will be the only semifinalist from last year missing at the 1936 tournament. The Grizzlies, depleted by graduation, were knocked out of the Big Eight tournament in the first round.

Semifinalists returning are Lavaca, Green Forest and Jonesboro.
Three other teams on the scorecard this year played in last year's tournament. They are Center Ridge, Catholic High of Little Rock and North Little Rock.

The opening day schedule:
Rogers vs. Greenwood, 2 p. m.
McCrory vs. Crossett, 3:20 p. m.
Forrest City vs. Nashville 4:40
p. m.

Leachville vs. Little Rock, 7:30
p. m.

Only three teams are making their first trip to the Class A state tournament. They are Augusta, Nashville and Whitehall. Whitehall played in the state Class B tourna-

The other team in the tournament is Emerson, which last played for the championship in 1947.
It lost in the semifinals.

ager of featherweight ruler Sandy

Porkers Drop Final Game of Cage Season

FAYETTEVILLE, (AP)

A comeback rally fell short in an overtime period and the Arkansas Razorbacks dropped a 68-66 decision to St. Louis University here
last night.

The goal that lowered the final boom on the heads of the Razorbacks was a 28-foot shot by Jim McLaughlin, captain of the Bil-likenes, with four seconds remaining in the overtime period.

The loss closed the season for the Porkers with 11 victories and 13 losses. Nine of those victories were in the Southwest Conference, a record that landed them in second place in the conference standings.

Aside from a strong second half rally Razorbacks rooters got an individual record to cheer about.

Tele Prompter New Gadget for Speakers

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (U. P.)—TelePrompter, which has developed many marvelous devices to aid the harried speaker appearing before television cameras, has come up with a new one. It's called the "optical outliner."

The viewing public has become highly conscious of the TelePrompter, a machine which feeds a moving script for a speaker who almost—but quite—appears to be talking extemporaneously. Most TV viewers these days can tell when a speaker uses a TelePrompter. In some cases the movement of a speaker's eyes as he reads his lines is pretty obvious.

But the optical outliner would appear to solve that problem. Published descriptions of the new development make it sound virtually foolproof. A glass coated with a thin layer of titanium dioxide is placed between the speaker and the TV cameras. Magic lantern mirrors project the lines of a speech onto the coating on the speaker's side of the glass. The speaker reads his speech while gazing directly into the camera. The audience sees only the speaker.

A TelePrompter spokesman says the new optical outliner has been used with extraordinary efficiency on closed-circuit television programs by business men addressing audiences of their employees. In salesmanship, where the direct clear-eyed approach is most important, where sincerity is prized above all, the new invention obviously is a great boon.

It would be surprising if the major political parties failed to make use of the new invention in this election year when television will have such a big role. But as one voter and viewer, I draw a fine line of distinction between salesmanship and politics. I hope that whenever a politician uses the optical outliner the TV audience will be so informed.

In politics sincerity is more than a direct gaze. It includes a politician's ability to have firmly in mind a great mass of information which he interprets according to his views. If a politician has this attribute he is, to my mind, genuinely sincere. If he does not have it, then he can only be "sincere" in quotation marks.

MISINTERPRETATION WASHINGTON, (U. P.)—Sen. William Langer (R-N.D.) caused some confusion yesterday when he made a barely audible request that the Senate give its pages the rest of the afternoon off.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) leaped up to object. He said he thought the Senate should have a quorum call instead to bring in more members for the debate.

After a hurried huddle, the red-faced O'Mahoney profusely withdrew his objection. He said he had thought Langer wanted to excuse all senators for the afternoon in the middle of debate on the farm bill.

What a Few Noted Folks Are Saying

By United Press

ALEXANDRIA, Minn. — Adlai Stevenson on world peace:

"Peace never comes on the bargain counter. If Russia and the satellites sank beneath the seas, there would still be trouble. For nationalism is bumping imperialism in many parts of the world."

ROCHESTER, N.H.—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) on world peace:

"The truth is we are not doing nearly enough to advance the cause of peace in the world. And we are so intent on enjoying the so-called prosperity of these times, that we are falling behind in critical areas of defense."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Yankee Pitcher Don Larsen's mother on her advice before he left for spring training:

"Make sure you get your proper rest, and be careful when you pitch to that fellow Ted Williams."

CHICAGO—Stanley Janis, 41, on why he kept his 21-year old wife, Betty, a virtual prisoner during the 15 months of their marriage:

"She was all mine and I wanted to keep her that way."

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Broadway Singer Gloria Lane on being named a concert appearance in Indianapolis, Ind., because she is pregnant:

"Motherhood must be a crime in Indianapolis."

Dulles Arrives in Pakistan for Parley

KARACHI, Pakistan (U. P.)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles flew into Karachi today to meet with the foreign ministers and military leaders of America's seven SEATO Pact allies.

Around the World

GENOA, Italy, (U. P.)—Archeologists said today they had turned up enough evidence in an excavation at Sestri Ponente to determine they had discovered a village some 2,000 years old.

A group led by Prof. Aldo Lam-boglia of the Ligurian studies institute has been working on the diggings about a year.

The first evidence of the iron age village turned up during the installing of a World War II anti-aircraft artillery battery.

Evidence indicated the village was composed of wooden cabins and probably was fortified. Finds included fragments of pottery and ing tomorrow.

"This organization stands guard over the independence and safety of its members by pledging all to stand ready to help each other against aggression," he declared, adding:

"At our meeting here in Karachi, we will be discussing ways and means to further the security and well-being of the member states."

Dulles' Big Three partners, foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, were due later today.

The delegates from the other SEATO allies — Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines and Thailand—arrived earlier.

After an opening public session, the conference in closed meetings is expected to take up first the question of establishing a permanent secretariat and a headquarters—probably in Bangkok—for the organization. Until now, it has been to a large extent a paper outfit.

FILES FOR NOMINATION

LITTLE ROCK (U. P.)—Jackson County Rep. Robert Harvey today filed for Democratic nomination as state senator from the 18th District.

Harvey, a farmer, is seeking the position presently held by State Sen. Y. M. Mack of Morefield.

Harvey has served as representative since 1947.

Mack has not filed for renomination.

The district is composed of Jackson, Izard and Independence counties.

LONDON, (U. P.)—A British member of parliament charged yesterday that Britain was employing "murderers" in training German pilots here.

Laborite Emrys Hughes said Germany would not be relied upon to be on the Western side 10 or 15 years from now.

"We are so short of pilots that we are now employing the murderers," he said. "That is what they were in the last war."

Were You a 1935 Bride?

By CLAUDE BYRD

Back in the dim days of 1935 — a great many happy June brides said "I do" and meant it. Likewise the same number of happy grooms said the same thing — and meant it.

So today, many years later, they are still married but we don't read about them in the newspapers. They are contented people. However, they were June brides and grooms and I think something should be done about it.

I think I will organize a movement to be called "Don't Forget The June Brides of Other Days."

How about that, isn't that a good idea? This, of course, brings me into the subject of wedding anniversaries — and that's what is on my mind today.

If you were a bride of 1935 — or any year — I suggest that you do some subtle hinting and get your hubby into a frame of mind where he will want to give you an anniversary present. This brings me and our store into the picture. And why not? We have one of the largest stocks of jewelry gifts to be found anywhere — all the things that thrilled brides of today and yesterday would love to have. Spend as little as one dollar. Or as much as you wish. Everything is in the best of taste — and our easy credit terms are yours for the asking.
